3. Give the precis of the following passage with a suitable title : 10

Madhya Pradesh is one of the poorest states and is counted among the backward states. It ranks eleven among the fifteen major states in terms of per capita income. Over forty per cent of the households in the state are below the poverty line. Economic growth has well lagged behind the national average and has not led as yet to any sustained decline in equality and poverty. However the state is striving hard for development. The state has earned laurels in the field of democratic decentralisation. It is also making headway in the field of Information Technology and Gyandoot Yojna at Dhar is famous. The state has vast potential for development.

Unit—IV

4. (A) Read the following passage and answer the questions given below : 5

A computer can solve a series of problems and make hundreds even thousands of logical decisions without becoming tired or bored. It can find a solution to the problem in a fraction of a time. It takes a human being to do the job. A computer can replace people in dull, routine tasks, but it has no originality. It works according to the instructions given to it and cannot exercise any value judgements. There are times when a computer seems to operate like a mechanical brain but its achievements are limited by the minds of human being. A computer cannot do anything unless a person tells it what to do and gives it the appropriate information, but because electric pulses can move the speed of the light, a computer can carry out vast numbers of Arithmetic logical operations almost instantaneously. A person can do everything a computer can do but in many cases that person would be dead before the job was finished.
